

SCS Lectureship Award 2022

Prof. David Nesbitt

University of Colorado Boulder, USA

colorado.edu

Wed, May 4, 2022, 16.30h, University of Geneva

«A Physical Chemist in Search of Simplicity: From Interstellar Chemistry to Single Molecule Biophysics»

Auditoire P. F. Tingry A150, Sciences II, Quai Ernest-Ansermet 30, Geneva

Thu, May 5, 2022, 17.00h, EPFL Lausanne

«Chemical Physics at the Gas-Liquid, Gas-SAMs, and Gas-Molten Metal Interface»

BCH 2201 Auditorium - Batochime Building, Lausanne

Fri, May 6, 2022, 16.15h, ETH Zurich

«Ultrafast Optical Control of Hot Electron Dynamics in Plasmonic Nanostructures: Making Gold 'Shine' (Plus a hopefully short story on Spectroscopy and COVID)»

Lecture hall HCI J 3, ETH Hönggerberg, Zurich

Mon, May 9, 2022, 16.30h, University of Zurich

«Kinetics and Thermodynamics of Nucleic Acid Folding: Chirality/Temperature/Pressure Dependent Studies at the Single Molecule Level»

Lecture Hall Y24-G-55, Irchel Campus, Winterthurerstrasse 190, Zurich

Tue, May 10, 2022, 16.30h, University of Basel

«High Resolution Spectroscopy of Molecular Transients: Cosmochemistry, Combustion, and COVID! »

Large Lecture Room 3.01, Klingelbergstrasse 80, Basel
